

FUND TO BENEFIT BY DANCES TO-DAY

Miss Morgan's Pupils to Be Seen and Miss Ponselle
Will Be Heard.

NEWARK FETE SATURDAY
American Pomeranian Club
Will Hold Show Here
for Smokes.

The exhibition of dancing by Louise Morgan's pupils for the benefit of the "Fund for American Soldiers" will occur this afternoon at the Belmont Theatre. They will be assisted in entertainment by Miss Carmella Ponselle, who will sing the Habanera from the opera "Carmen."

Included among the young performers are several who have been highly successful with the public in the past. The first of the group of dancers is Louise Morgan, who is a native of New York. She is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

On Saturday night the Robert Treat Hotel will entertain with a dinner dance which will be given for the benefit of the "Fund for American Soldiers." The fund is a new organization which has been organized for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the American soldiers who are in the front lines of the war.

Child Harpist Volunteers.
"Little Lady Constance" Almy, who plays the harp, is a volunteer for this party. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

Another volunteer for this party is Miss Helen Savannah, who is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

Tea Will Follow Show.
Following the show, a tea will be given by the many society women members of the American Pomeranian Club. The tea will be given at the Belmont Theatre and will be a most enjoyable affair.

Two recent visitors of The Sun Tobacco Fund were the returned soldiers, Private Randolph Company C, 105th Infantry (27th Division), and Private James Grogg of Company B, 322d Infantry. The purpose of their call was to repeat their thanks to The Sun Tobacco Fund for the tobacco gifts which they had in the Argonne and just before sailing last February.

I wrote to The Sun on the first occasion and hope the paper received my letter, but I have felt right along that as soon as I got home I would come in and add to what I said. If The Sun

MARRIED.

MILLER-CARNEGIE.—On Tuesday, April 23, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

MONROE-BERNARD.—On Wednesday, April 24, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

WELLS-STARTUP.—On April 23, 1919, at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, by the Rev. George H. Houghton, Marion Martin Startup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Houghton, to Frank Merton Wells of Beacon, N. Y.

DIED.

HALM.—Sophia, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

IKENAGA.—Shonosuke, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

KILBOURNE.—Alanson, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

PHILLIPS.—Charles H., on Wednesday, April 23, 1919, at his late residence, 144 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn, Friday, April 23, at 10:30 A. M.

TORREY.—Al, Newark, N. J., on Wednesday, April 23, 1919, at his late residence, 144 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn, Friday, April 23, at 10:30 A. M.

can take my thanks to Dave Myers, the contributor who paid for this tobacco. It would make me feel good.

"I tell you, we boys will never forget what the paper has done for us. It was really nice to get the tobacco sometimes for we needed it but the fact that a great New York paper kept us in home is something we will never forget. We sure try to locate Mr. Myers for us, as when we write back on a card with the tobacco there is usually time given us to say only few words and we are very much obliged to him and want him to know it."

Like to think, too, said Private Gordon, "that the tobacco on which Rhine is still getting his smokes through the agency of The Sun Tobacco Fund, sure they need it, off there far in the front lines, and we sure they'll get feeling. I can tell just how they are feeling."

Lately a day passes without a call from a group of soldiers who come to say about what these two did. Often they offer a contribution to the fund but this is not encouraged, as the fund is a new organization which has been organized for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the American soldiers who are in the front lines of the war.

On Saturday night the Robert Treat Hotel will entertain with a dinner dance which will be given for the benefit of the "Fund for American Soldiers." The fund is a new organization which has been organized for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the American soldiers who are in the front lines of the war.

Child Harpist Volunteers.
"Little Lady Constance" Almy, who plays the harp, is a volunteer for this party. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

Another volunteer for this party is Miss Helen Savannah, who is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

Tea Will Follow Show.
Following the show, a tea will be given by the many society women members of the American Pomeranian Club. The tea will be given at the Belmont Theatre and will be a most enjoyable affair.

Two recent visitors of The Sun Tobacco Fund were the returned soldiers, Private Randolph Company C, 105th Infantry (27th Division), and Private James Grogg of Company B, 322d Infantry. The purpose of their call was to repeat their thanks to The Sun Tobacco Fund for the tobacco gifts which they had in the Argonne and just before sailing last February.

I wrote to The Sun on the first occasion and hope the paper received my letter, but I have felt right along that as soon as I got home I would come in and add to what I said. If The Sun

MARRIED.

MILLER-CARNEGIE.—On Tuesday, April 23, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

MONROE-BERNARD.—On Wednesday, April 24, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

WELLS-STARTUP.—On April 23, 1919, at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, by the Rev. George H. Houghton, Marion Martin Startup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Houghton, to Frank Merton Wells of Beacon, N. Y.

DIED.

HALM.—Sophia, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

IKENAGA.—Shonosuke, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

KILBOURNE.—Alanson, on April 22, 1919, at the home of the bride's parents, in New York City, by the Rev. Dr. William F. Morgan, the Rev. Dr. Henry S. Coffin, Margaret, daughter of Andrew and Louise Whitfield Carnegie, to Russell Miller, Esq., of New York City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnegie and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller.

PHILLIPS.—Charles H., on Wednesday, April 23, 1919, at his late residence, 144 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn, Friday, April 23, at 10:30 A. M.

TORREY.—Al, Newark, N. J., on Wednesday, April 23, 1919, at his late residence, 144 Carlton avenue, Brooklyn, Friday, April 23, at 10:30 A. M.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many of the leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or make-up, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of canthox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, its luster and softness are delightful.—Ad.

BUSHMAN TO STAR ON SPEAKING STAGE

Idol of the Movies Will Appear Under Oliver Morosco's Management.

Powder puffs and caramels are in order for next season. Francis X. Bushman, a leader among the professional heroes of the screen, has been engaged to star the celebrated Bushman smile on the speaking stage, and there is now some stimulus to being a matinee girl. The manager who achieved this notable theatrical scoop in the face of what amounted to a conspiracy on the part of the other managers to catch Bushman by hook or crook was none other than our old friend Oliver Morosco.

He provided Bushman with the requisite dotted line on a long term contract under which, it is announced, the actor will be paid the highest salary yet paid to a legitimate stage actor. The press representative is having his little joke. After trying out his voice in the studio, he is now being trained to be a speciality writer. In New York in one of the new broods of Morosco's stars, he will not be long from the Broadway stage and not later than January 1, Mrs. Bushman, otherwise known to historians of the movies as Beverly Sills, will cast in her lot with her husband.

When "I Love a Lassie," a new musical farce, is produced Clifton Crawford will be the star. He is a general favorite and will not be out of the star of the place, but the man who made the music out of his own piano. Clifton Crawford has taken the book under her guidance. Edgar Gardner is furnishing the numbers, and Harry Lauder is believed to have been responsible for the action with the others at rehearsal, and at New Haven on May 15 the cast will start blaring.

The Theatre Guild has broken out with an invitation to Henry Miller, Blanche Bates, Estelle Winwood, Holbrook Blinn and other members of the cast of "The Theatre Guild" to play at the Liberty Theatre to drop over to the "Theatre Guild" this afternoon and see if they can't pick up a few points from Philip Moeller's production of "The Theatre Guild." The Henry Miller phalanx are expected to issue a counter challenge.

Fred Heider has fitted his smile to the "Theatre Guild" of "The Theatre Guild" at the Knickerbocker Theatre by Johnny Dooley, who drank so much ink as a hotel clerk in John Cort's musical comedy, "The Theatre Guild." The Henry Miller phalanx are expected to issue a counter challenge.

Monna Breen and Claude Breen, a son of the late Sir Herbert Breen, a son, have been added to the cast for "The Theatre Guild" to play at the Liberty Theatre to drop over to the "Theatre Guild" this afternoon and see if they can't pick up a few points from Philip Moeller's production of "The Theatre Guild." The Henry Miller phalanx are expected to issue a counter challenge.

Helena Fox, ingenue lead in "Somebody Loves Me," is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer. She is a native of New York and is a pupil of the late Mr. Morgan, who was a well-known dancer.

Many Join in 101st Anniversary Celebration of Grammar School 3.

The kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

So last night all the kids who used to hold out their trembling hands and get the daylight kicked out of them in the rickety old "Cath House" down in Hudson street for drawing funny crayon pictures of Teacher Pa Pinckney, Ella McKeever, Irene Gould, Jennie Lynch, Doc Taylor, Doc Hoag, Elizabeth Spiera, Louise Cole and all the other schoolmates who used to squeeze the three R's into the youngsters of Greenwich Village, were in the school today for the 101st anniversary of Grammar School No. 3, which had its books in the old school building in Hudson street in 1818, when that early school was popularly known as the "Cath House."

NOTES OF THE SOCIAL WORLD.

A military and naval ball will be given to-night at the Commodore for the benefit of the New York Association for the Blind. Among those who have taken boxes are Mrs. William L. Harkness, Mrs. J. King, Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson, Mrs. Theodore L. Peters, Mrs. Edward S. Harkness, Miss Caroline L. Morgan, Mrs. Louis S. Treacy, Mrs. Richard C. Colt, Ranking officers of the army and navy will attend, and uniforms of all branches of the service will be worn. Charles Steward Butler will be at the head of the floor committee.

Henry Rogers Benjamin, who will marry Miss Dorothy Renard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Renard, in St. Thomas' church, next Sunday afternoon, will give his farewell bachelor dinner this evening at Sherry's.

A dance for the purpose of raising funds to supply hospitals for soldiers and sailors with scrapbooks will be given to-night in the main ballroom of the Biltmore. Among the young women of the committee are the Misses Eunice Bache, Agnes G. Sedgwick, Hamilton Mowbray, Louise Ruston, Beatrice Sackett and Edith Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman will leave New York to-day for the Home-land, Hot Springs, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Reynold will pass the summer in Newport, where they have taken the villa known as Brent Lodge.

Miss Marion E. Werhan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Werhan, will be married to-day to Robert S. Wormser in Grace Church.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Stier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Stier, 270 Park avenue, to Harold D. Seaside will take place to-day at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Baker have come from Washington to the Plaza, where they will remain until they go to their summer place in the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Wall of Seaside are at the St. Regis for several weeks.

MISS FIELD NAMES
BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Marriage to E. W. Fabyan to Take Place May 3.

Arrangements have been completed for the marriage of Miss Frances Pearl Field, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Bradstreet Field, to Everett Westcott Fabyan of Boston, which will take place in St. Bartholomew's Church the afternoon of May 3. It will be the first wedding in the new church, although there have been several in the chapel. Miss Field has chosen for her bridesmaids Miss Theodore Frothingham, Jr. and Mrs. William Augustus Read, Jr., sisters of the bridegroom; the bridesmaids are Misses Mary Osgood Monroe, Jr., a cousin, Katherine Cunniff, Blodgett, Mary Cole, Minnie Richards, Lucile Baldwin and Polly Damrosch.

John Mitchell of Boston will be the best man. The groom is a native of New York. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter. He is now a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at the University of Virginia. He is now a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at the University of Virginia. He is now a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter at the University of Virginia.

COL. WILLIAM H. DOYLE.

Col. William H. Doyle, 81, a civil war veteran and retired officer of the Regular Army, died at midnight Tuesday in his home in North Plainfield township, N. J.

He was a native of Staten Island. He enlisted in the civil war and became a member of the 11th New York Heavy Artillery. Afterward he joined the Regular Army and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant, and served with the 2nd Cavalry in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines.

CAPT. JOHN G. HULPHERS.

Capt. John Gregory Hulphers, commander of the old Dominion Steamship Line, died Tuesday in his home, 844 St. Mark's avenue, Brooklyn. He was 73, and had followed the sea from boyhood. He was a member of the United States Navy and served in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines. He was promoted to the rank of Major and served in the Philippines.

PROF. GEORGE T. FILES.

BOSTON, April 23.—Prof. George T. Files, head of the department of German at Bowdoin College, died here to-day after a long illness which developed in France, where he served in Y. M. C. A. work as educational director of the original promoters of better roads in Maine, and laid out the State highway system. He had been president of the Maine Automobile Association three years.

AMUSEMENT IN THE HOME

BRITTON LIST BOOKS

LOVE TIME

FIGHTING BYNG

MAID & WIFE

DALE DRUMMOND'S

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

WEDGE OF THE WORLD

ROGERS PEET COMPANY

WEDGE OF THE WORLD

DARIUS COBB, NOTED PAINTER, DIES AT 84

Exhibitions of Scriptural Subjects Were Held in All Parts of Country.

NEWTON, Mass., April 22.—Darius Cobb, painter, sculptor and poet, died to-night in his home in Upper Newton Falls at the age of 84. He was most widely known for his portraits and landscapes, and had achieved considerable prominence for his exhibitions of paintings dealing with scriptural subjects. His painting, "The Master," generally regarded as his best work, has been exhibited in churches throughout the country.

His death closes a chapter in one of the most remarkable instances of twinship. His twin brother, Cyrus, who died in 1902, was a sculptor, painter and musician and retained the close physical resemblance until late in life. On his brother's death Darius said:

"Half of me is dead. Never were two human beings more dependent upon each other than we were. We were both sculptors, both were artists, both were musicians, both had exacting tastes in literature, in amusement, in everything. No person could tell the difference between our photographs and very few between our personal appearance."

The brothers were born at Malden, Mass., August 6, 1834, sons of the Rev. Sylvanus C. and Eunice Hale Cobb. Darius served in the Forty-fourth Massachusetts Volunteers through the Civil war. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.

His brother also had painted a number of scriptural subjects but was chiefly devoted to sculpture and designed the Soldiers' Monument in New York City. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church. He was a member of the Unitarian Church.